Such consent will be given by the Organization after examining each application separately and at the Organization's sole discretion, which may condition its consent on different conditions and require usage fee, at its discretion.

4. User's Obligations

4.1 A user of the Site (hereinafter: "the User") will not perform actions on the Site in a way which does not comply with any law and/of these Terms of Use, including making any commercial use of the Site's Contents or any part thereof and/or any interference with the Contents displayed on the Site including, inter alia, any change or deletion of information or Contents, or actions which are likely to limit or prevent others from using the Site.

4.2 The User will not perform on the Site actions that constitute forgery, impersonation, deception or fraud.

4.3 The User will indemnify and compensate the Organization for any damage, direct or indirect, and/or any expense caused to the Organization in connection with a claim and/or demand arising from the User's use of the Site, including any action contrary to these Terms of Use or the provisions of any law.

4.4 Without derogating from any other right the Organization may have, the User hereby agrees that in case the Organization is of the opinion that the User's use does not comply with the provisions of the Terms of Use and/or any law, the Organization may take any action as it deems fit to protect its rights and/or the rights of third parties, inter alia by preventing the User from accessing the Site and recording and/or tracking the User's use of the Site.

4.5 It is also clarified that the Organization may deliver details of the User's identity and of actions he has performed on the Site to third parties, if it is obligated to do so under a judicial order, or if it faces a threat of legal actions (criminal or civil) being taken against it for actions performed by the User on the Organization's Site. In such case, the Organization will be entitled to deliver the User's details to the party claiming it has been harmed by the User or under provisions of the judicial order.

4.6 You acknowledge that you are aware that the meetings at the Visitor Center are filmed from time to time for advertising and publicity purposes. You authorize the photography and publication of your photos and / or videos, and that the material photographed will be displayed in the various media outlets, including the Internet and / or various publications in the press and / or any other media, by StandWithUs and / or on its behalf, for the purposes of advertising and promoting the StandWithUs Visitors' Center and the association's activities. You know that if you do not want to be photographed, you must inform the person in charge at the Visitor's Center when you visit there.

5. Limitation of Liability

5.1 The use of the Site is at the User's responsibility only.

5.2 The Organization and/or third parties are not liable in any way whatsoever for the use of the Site's Contents including their accuracy, reliability, availability and quality, and are not responsible or liable in any way whatsoever for any disruption, error or omission in the Contents uploaded to the Site.

5.3 The Organization will not be liable for any direct, indirect, consequential or accidental damage due to access to the Site and the use thereof or due to any prevention from using the Site, whether on contractual ground or tortious ground. The Organization is not liable for any damage including due to virus, malicious software programs such as a Trojan horse, worms, or any kind of software applications, the User's computer equipment or any other property of the User, which will be caused by browsing or using the Site, including due to downloading information and/or Contents from the Site.

5.4 The Organization applies information security systems and procedures on the Site. Whereas such systems and procedures reduce the risk of unauthorized penetration to the Organization's computers, they do not guaranty absolute protection. Therefore the Organization does not promise that the services at the site are proofed against unauthorized access to the information stored in them.

6. Bookings through the Site

6.1 The Organization's Site includes Links to sale screens with details on paid access to sites, paid events, and sale of tickets to such events and/or entry to the Organization Education Center.

6.2 The service terms stipulated in this document will also apply to the User's use of the sale screens and/or the Links mentioned above, and their use is at the User's responsibility only.

6.3 Refund and cancellation policy –

Up to 7 days before the date set for the visit, a cancellation fee of 5% or NIS 100, whichever is lower. Between 7 days and 48 hours before the date of the visit, a cancellation fee of 50% of the payment. From 48 hours from the date of the visit – cancellation fee is the full payment made.

The terms of Booking-cancellation are subject to the provisions of the Consumer Protection Law, 5741-1981.

7. Payments

Payment for the products will be made by credit card and any similar service, as will be available for use on the site, from time to time at the discretion of the site management.

Use of a credit card shall require customer to provide the credit card details, ID number, card type and validity.

Once the payment details have been entered in the online order form, a confirmation of receipt of the order details will be sent to the customer via e-mail. It will be clarified that this approval does not oblige the site management to provide the ordered services and it only indicates that the order details have been received by the site management.

In the event that the transaction is not approved by the credit company or any other means of payment at the time, the customer will receive appropriate notice and the customer will be notified to complete or cancel the transaction.

The management of the site reserves the right to stop using any means of payment on the site, allow the use of additional means of payment and apply different payment arrangements to different types of credit cards or means of payment that the site management will respect.

It will be clarified that there may be situations in which although the item is displayed on the site as existing in stock, in practice it is missing and can not be delivered, in these cases the transaction will be canceled and the customer will not have any claim in this regard subject to refund of the amount paid by the customer.

The delivery date will be determined from the date of approval of the transaction by the credit company or approval of the PayPal account or other available electronic wallet service approved.

If the customer is mistakenly charged by the credit company, the customer must notify the site management in order to make a credit accordingly.

8. Miscellaneous

8.1 The Organization may assign its rights and obligations under these Terms of Use or any part thereof.

8.2 The Organization reserves its right to introduce changes in these Terms of Use at any time and at its sole discretion and without prior warning, and any change in the Terms of Use will enter into force immediately on its publication on the Site as part of the Terms of Use. It is the User's responsibility to check and be updated with the Terms of Use.
